This works since the semantic table is guaranteed to contain no conflicting type information for a given identifier name, regardless of input position.

Does these changes belong to this PR?

Mats-SX added a note Apr 9, 2015

Well, not really from the branch name or the PR name, but me and Andrés felt that these changes were so small they might as well be part of this PR since it was also pretty small and isolated. Do you think we should make a dedicated PR instead?
