The banner will not disappear until it checks again. It would be nice to have a link in that banner "try again" or similar. Have noticed this when restarting the server locally to restore a db backup.

How do you reconnect without refreshing the window? Is it even possible? My banner seems to just stay red forever.

It seemed to go away after a while for me on Chrome but took a long time - normally just refresh which isn't great.

@mbyrne00 by default the UI checks to see if the server is alive every 60 seconds. You can issue the command `:config heartbeat:1` to set it to 1s.

Would still be nice to have a "retry now" link much like the slack app has on mac.

Agreed, such a link/button would be pretty handy.
